Dear Customer:

I have a group of fine Odontoglossum grande just coming into bloom. A few have already bloomed and they are lovely. The flowers are very long-lasting, greenish white, barred with chestnut brown. They average five to six inches in diameter. If you don't have one of these beautiful species in your collection, I feel very sure you would enjoy one. In five and six inch pots, the price is $7.50 each.

Very cordially yours,

Margaret Ilgenfritz
